CHEERFULNESS

This Double Poetaz has three and four creamy white flowers on one stem, resembling a cluster of small Gardenias. Cheerfulness is well named and makes friends with all who see it in bloom. See page 9.

WASHINGTON GROWN

BULB GROWING in America is a recent industry. "Washington Grown" Daffodils and Tulips are now conceded to be the finest produced anywhere in the world. This fact is now recognized by leading greenhouse operators and seedsmen.

The excellency of these bulbs is due to a great many factors. Foremost among these is the most perfect climatic conditions for the growing and curing of hardy bulb stocks. The mild wet winters make for perfect growing conditions. The cool summers and proper atmospheric conditions are ideal for the proper curing of the bulbs.

Northwest grown bulbs, when forced, flower much earlier than the foreign product or those produced in less favorable sections. Flowers from these forced bulbs command a premium on the market, due to their earliness, size of flower and superior quality.

The abundance of rich river bottom lands in the Northwest, allows the grower to move his planting to "new" ground often. This is very beneficial to the stocks and insures the production of bulbs free from fungus diseases and other ailments traced to the repeated growing of bulbous stocks on the same soil.

This being America's foremost bulb producing section, the State and Government both maintain a highly trained force of experienced men, who are working constantly on methods of combating disease. The many laboratories and experiment stations are ever on the alert for any new ailment that might attack or impair the quality of the crop.

Northwest grown Daffodils lead the world in freedom from disease. This fact has been established many times at Quarantine hearings held in Washington, D. C., by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

NARCISSUS — DAFFODILS — JONQUILS

The terms "Narcissus" and "Daffodils" are interchangeable; there exists a tendency to apply the name "Daffodil" to the varieties in which the trumpet or crown is as large or larger than the petals (perianth); while the name "Narcissus" is usually used for the varieties having small cups or crowns. Jonquils are also a type of Narcissus; they usually bear their flowers in clusters and have rush-like foliage. Many of the Jonquil Hybrids have only the single flower and ordinary foliage. The name "Narcissus" is correct for any or all of the different types.

A Few Suggestions for Growing Daffodils

They will thrive in any well drained garden soil. Prepare the soil deeply, 12 inches or more is best. Plant at least 6 inches deep, extra large bulbs are better planted 7 or 8 inches deep. (Some varieties make larger bulbs than others.) No manure should come in contact with the bulb. If the soil needs fertility, use bone meal at the rate of one-fifth pound to the square yard. This should be thoroughly mixed with the soil under the bulb.

A mulch of straw or leaves will be beneficial in very severe climates. If the mulch is applied after the first freeze, it will prevent thawing and heaving.

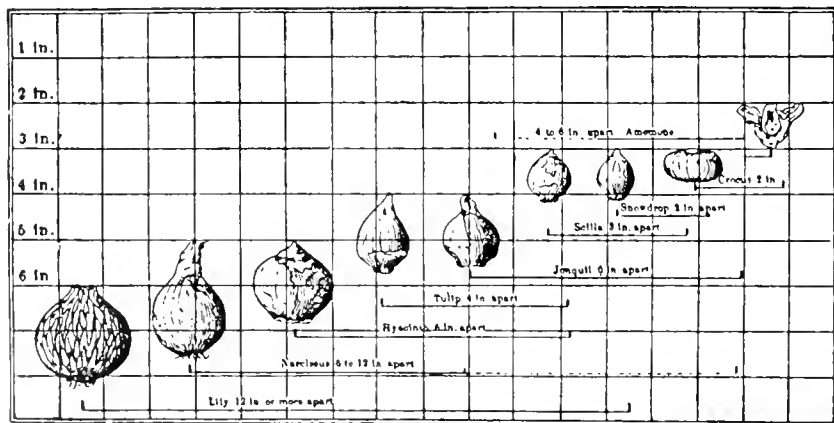

Indoor Culture

Pot the bulbs as soon as received in a good loam soil. Some sand and peat moss mixed with the soil will be beneficial, also a small amount of bone flour; about two pounds to a bushel of soil.

Old pots should be washed thoroughly, new ones should be soaked. Place a few pieces of charcoal or fragments of broken pots over the drainage hole. A little ground peat in the bottom regulates drainage and retains moisture.

Bury the pots outside under six inches of soil or ashes, water well. In 10 or 12 weeks move to the cellar, or any cool dark place for about two weeks. For a succession of bloom bring pots in at weekly intervals, bringing in the earlier varieties first.

Tops should now be several inches above the soil and buds showing. Pots may now be brought inside to a temperature of 50 to 60 degrees. Later when the flower buds are well advanced the temperature may be increased to not over 65. To put where the heat is greater may cause the buds to come "blind". A little liquid manure once a week will hasten the blooming, and improve the quality.

NOVELTY DAFFODILS

Orders for Novelty Daffodils, priced at 75c each or more, should be in my hands before October 1st. When ordering these newer Daffodils at a later date, it would be well to name a substitute, in case your order could not be filled completely.

The scale at left shows at a glance how deep to plant and space bulbs.

Order early and plant early for fine flowers. September planted daffodils produce much finer flowers than later plantings. Extras will be given with early orders.

POLYANTHUS NARCISSUS

Producing clusters of fragrant flowers; not recommended for outside planting, except in mild climates.

Bulbs of these varieties, grown in pebbles, can be had in bloom from Christmas until Easter. Upon arrival, plant immediately, if wanted early, and put in a cool place, free from frost. When well rooted they can be taken into heat, the milder the temperature, the finer the flowers. For a succession of bloom, plant at intervals of two weeks, keeping unplanted bulbs in a moderately cool temperature and dry. The water requires changing occasionally, a little powdered charcoal added to the water, helps to keep it fresh. The earlier the bulbs are planted, the longer the time required for rooting; December plantings root very quickly. Soleil d'Or will give best results if not brought into heat until the buds start to show.

CHINESE SACRED LILY. (Southern grown.) Perianth white; cup golden yellow. Each 10c, doz. $1.00.

SUNDEW. 20" Best described as a striking red Darwin, with a frilled edge, fine grower. Doz. 75c; 100, $5.50.

TULIP CULTURE

Best results are to be had by using soil that Tulips have not been grown in for at least two years. Growing more than two years in the same soil will eventually lead to failure. Do not use manure, if the soil needs fertility, mix bone meal with it at the rate of about three handfuls to the square yard. Plant 5 inches deep and at least 6 inches apart. In very severe climates a mulch of peat moss or leaves will be beneficial. This should be applied after the first freeze, and should not be over one inch deep.

HYACINTHS

The most natural, truly graceful Hyacinth plant is produced from medium sized bulbs. Hyacinths lose grace and strength when they gain in size. The "Exhibition" size bulbs so commonly offered are not suited for outside planting. They produce large trusses that are far too heavy for the stem to hold upright, and the first wind or rain lays them flat on the ground. The large size offered below is ideal for pot culture, while the small size will produce elegant, graceful blooms in the garden and will increase in size each year.

INDOOR CULTURE: Follow directions given for Daffodils, except that the bulbs should be potted shallow, top of bulb being level with the top of the pot.

Numbers used in descriptions represent time of blooming, (1) being the earliest and (4) the latest.

BISMARCK. (2) One of the finest blue Hyacinths, large truss and early forcer.

*Stirring up the soil is good for rheumatics,
Good for your liver, your lights and lymphatics ;
Even supposing that every crop fails you,
Still the old garden is good for what ails you.*
